MILLIONS UNTAXED IT IS ALLEGED

About $18,000,000 Said to Have Been Discovered in Richmond

NEW TAX STATUTES

New Examiners May Be Appointed, and Hints That Tax-Payers Will be Put Upon the Stand in Future.

Richmond, April 10—Properties valued at not less than $18,000,000 have recently been "discovered for taxation" in this locality by tax examiners, it was learned today, and when the tax interrogatories are returned for examination it is thought likely that much more will be added.

It was further learned that the State Tax Revision Board, which is composed of the Governor, the State Auditor and the chairman of the State Corporation Commission, expects the various examiners of records throughout the state to schutinize the interrogatories with the utmost care and to show results.

An intimation was made that in one or two places in the State the present examiners of records may be succeeded by new appointees, who will, it is said, be able to give more time to the work.

The interrogatories are now being prepared by the State Auditor. It is said that each will bear as a warning a printed statement across its face that the returns will be submitted to the examiner of records and that the taxpayer may be summoned and examined on oath regarding the correctness of his returns.

No estimate could be made of the amount which the examiners are expected to discover for the year. In some of the districts the examiners have been so successful, it is said, that they have offered to undertake on a percentage basis the work in other districts. All these offers, it is said, have been declined.

Attention was called to the new laws regarding tax examination and revision, and it was pointed out that the State Board of Tax Revision could remove from office any examiner not believed to be doing the work conscientiously.

The statement was made that no charges of any kind had been made against any examiner, and those in touch with the situation did not know they said, that any complaint would be lodged. It was admitted, however that the work shortly to be done by one or two of the examiners would be carefully reviewed with the idea of finding out weather the property examinations had been made.

Records show that the work done by the Examiner of the Records here has resulted in the "discovery" in recent years of properties, the total value of which is said to be in the neighborhood of $60,000,000. The local examiner's office has a corps of eight or ten men at work upon the tax records. Nearly every day, it is said, properties of large value are discovered.

The interrogatories shortly to be sent by the State Auditor to the commissioners of the revenue throughout the State will be forwarded by the commissioners to the individual taxpayers, collected and submitted to the examiners of the records in the several districts. The examiners will make the necessary additions, if any and send all the reports to the local boards of review, which after the proper consideration, will return them to the revenue commissioners and the commissioners will surrender them to the county treasurer, duplicates copies of all books being sent to the State Auditor's office here.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Search since February 17 for Walter V. Moran, 21, of 1332 Park road northwest, a former clerk in the Metropolitan National Bank, Washington, ended yesterday with the finding of his body floating near Buzzards Point, in the Potomac river. When Moran's disappearance was reported friends said he had brooded over resigning his clerkship in the bank, about nine months ago. He had a good record at the institution.

William M. Hunt, 31, a policeman of the Third precinct, yesterday entered the bathroom of his apartment at 2145 K street northwest, turned on the water heater, adjusted it to his satisfaction, filled the tub and stepped in. He was later found leaning over the edge of the tub. His body was rigid and cold. An autopsy revealed that death was due to carbon monoxide poisoning.

Riots broke out in Brussels yesterday in connection with the compulsory registration order issued by Gen. von Bissingen, the German military governor. The first day for registration of young Belgian men was set for March 23. Four hundred marched through the streets today shouting "We won't resign." The rioters were dispersed by troops. Similar riots occurred at Ternath, where two men were killed.

Italy has resumed the movement of troops to the Austrian frontier. Great stores of war supplies are also being massed there. The following dispatch was received from Rome in Geenva from Rome yesterday. "Prominent statesmen declared that the 'supreme clash' in the European war will come in June. The waiting policy is played by Italy that she may have a big, well-trained army to take the field."

Political parties favorable to Italy's immediate intervention in the war, comprising democrats, radicals, reformists, socialists and nationalists, have arranged great meetings to be held tomorrow throughout Italy in an endeavor to bring about the participation of the country in the conflict. The meetings will be in the nature of a warning to the monarchy that war on revolution is imminent.

A group of Norwegian airmen who have been scouring the coasts of Norway investigating rumors that a German submarine base was located in some sheltered spot of these neutral waters, found several German submarines gathered behind the cliffs at Bergen Bay. The submarines were ordered to leave immediately or else be interned for the remainder of the war.

William Lorimer, former United States Senator, and other officials of the defunct La Salle Street Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago, must stand trial on State charges of conspiring to wreck the institution. This was the effect of a decision in the Criminal Court yesterday by which a motion to quash the indictment was overruled and 24 of the 25 counts in the document were sustained.

After a decline of 9 to 11 points, cotton in New York yesterday suddenly rose 34 to 36 points, or nearly $2 a bale. The close was 19 to 21 points up. Buying was the heaviest in months. In the morning the bears seemed to have the advantage, and at a time when many traders believed a prolonged reaction had set in, longs filled the ring with buying orders. The longs were aided by peace rumors and large mill takings for the week.

The consul general from Montenegro to London last night announced an official dispatch from Cettinje, saying an Austrian aeroplane yesterday flew over the city of Cattarro and dropped seven bombs on the market place of Podgonitza, killed and wounding seventy-two women and children. FIERCE BATTLE IN COMBRES HEIGHTS

Terrible Toll of Dead Reported in Contested Territory

SMASHES OF FRENCH

Most Desperate Engagement Now in Progress Between Meuse and Moselle—Cliffs Raked

Paris, April 10—Fierce fighting on the Combres heights east of Les Eparges, with a terrible toll of dead, was reported continuing in dispatches received here today.

Following the capture of Les Eparges in a bloody engagement yesterday, the French are pressing home their advantage by heavy smashes against the center of the northern side of the German wedge.

Over rocky hillsides the battle about Combres is preceeding. The Germans hold strong positions on the top of the pleateau. Their machine guns are raking the cliffs. But by daring rushes with fixed bayonets the French are slowly fighting their way up the heights.

The Combres battle is the most desperate now going on getween the Meuse and the Moselle. The French believe they have found a weak spot in the German line and are hammering it with a vengeance. In the hilly woods, southeast of St. Mihiel, around Regnieville and north of Flirey, the attack on the southern side of the wedge is proceeding with almost equal violence.

To lift the pressure on their lines in this region, the Germans have launched offensives in the Champagne and near the seacoast. In Alsace fighting has been resumed and there are indications that a general engagement will soon be under way from the sea to the extreme eastern end of the battle line.

BATTLES HALTED BY EXHAUSTION

Fortnight of Most Desperate Fighting World Has Ever Known

CZAR HAS ADVANTAGE

Austria Abandons Proposed Serbian Invasion and is Ready to Cede Territory to Russia.

London, April 10—Through sheer exhaustion Russia and Austria have halted their operations in the Carpathians following a fortnight of the most desperate mountain fighting the world has ever known.

Advantage is taken by Russia of the lull in the fighting to pour thousands of fresh troops and heavy artillery south over the railway from Lemberg for a renewed effort to smash the dual monarchy's defense of the Uzsok pass.

Hard pressed in the Carpathians and menaced along the Italian frontier by the territorial demands of the erstwhile member of the Triple Alliance, the dual monarchy has abandoned its proposed second Serbian invasion and disposed the troops at strategic points along the nearer frontier.

Still further to guard her territory the dual monarchy is believed to be exerting diplomatic efforts to persuade Russia to conclude a separate treaty of peace and stand as a buffer to Italy's long cherished territorial ambition. As the price of this protection, the correspondent of the Milan Seculo, Perograd advices say, has wired the offers have come to the Czar that Franz Josef is ready to cede Galicia, Bosnia, and Herzegovina to Russia, but has insisted that she be allowed to retain Trente Istra and Transylvana.

Fires are burning in many places night and day in Maryland opposite this city, and in parts of Alexandria and Fairfax counties. People in the vicinity, however, succeeded in keeping the flames away from the church.

ENGLAND'S PROWESS.

Increasing Army And Navy—1,500,000 Men Ready by May.

London, April 10.—If the censor-ridden public were privately informed that the British fleet was being augmented by something like a submarine every thrheeh days, a destroyer every week and a battleship cruiser or dreadnought every month, it would laugh the statement to scorn. And yet that is a fact.

If Britain's present overwhelming fleet were to meet defeat at the hand of the German navy and bedestroyed, there would be a residue of such dimensions that the balance of sea power would still remain with Great Britain.

By May 1 this country will not only be supreme from a naval standpoint, but it will have a perfectly trained and equipped army of 1,500,000 men. By the end of the war England will have the biggest navy that the world has ever seen, and it will also possess the largest army in the world.

Of course, it is not contended that Great Britain is building a submarine every three days. That would be humanly speaking an impossibility, but theer are other ways of obtaining these little craft. Numbers of these deadly submarine vessels are being rushed from Canada and elsewhere in parts and put together on this side.

Every day that the German fleet remains cooped up in Kiel the odds are increased enormously against Germany.

UNITED STATES NOTE

Answers of Japan to Questions of This Government

Peking, April 10.—The Chinese government received yesterday an outline of the note of the United States government to Japan concerning the demands made upon China by Japan and of the reply of the Japanese government. It is said this reply was made on March 22 by Takaski Kato, Japanese minister of foreign affairs.

The Chinese report says that the American note covered 20 pages and specifically asked five questions. These questions and the replies of Japan thereto are set forth as follows:

The United States inquired concerning Japan's demand that in the province of Fukien, Japan shall have the right to work mines, build railroads and construct harbor works, and in case of the employment of foreign capital that Japan shall be first consulted. The Japanese government replied that these concessions were desired for the primary purpose of preventing other nations from acquiring special rights there, Japan understanding that Americans wish to build dock yards in the harbor at Sansuao. This position is of great strategic importance Japan pointed out on account of the posibility of its use for directing operations against Formosa in case of war.

The second question concerned the Japanese demand for supervision over the manufacture or purchase of war munitions by China. The Japanese government expressed the opinion that this question could be solved satisfactorily by the employment of mixed forces of Japanese and Chinese, a system which Japan says already exists.

The third question dealt with the Japanese demand that the Chinese police in certain places be administered jointly by Japan and Chinese officials, or that China shall employ numerous Japanese to organize the Chinese police. The Japanese government replied that this demand applied only to Southern Manchuria.

The fourth question concerned the demand for employment by China of Japanese political advisers will not be imposed upon China, but merely recommended.

The fifth question related to the demand Japan was said to have made that "No island port or harbor along the coast shall be ceded or leased to any third power." The Japanese government replied that this proposal restriction would apply to Japan as well as to other powers.

TREE UPROOTS POT OF GOLD

Copper Kettle Containing $30,000 In Gold Coin Found in Arkansas

A cotton buyer of Forrest City has received a letter from a friend living at Indian Bay, Ark., a town in the southern part of Marion county, stating that B. F. Allen, a farmer, while out hunting found a pot containing $30,000 in gold. None of the coins bears a date later than 1840.

The old copper pot containing the gold has been forced to the surface from several feet under the ground by the roots of a big tree that was blown down one night recently during a windstorm. The tree was standing on what is known as the Ewen Frairie Plantation.

There are only two more pine trees in that section and they are about 10 miles apart—one on the G. B. Malone place and the other on the Cazort place. Old settlers say these trees wore planted by John A. Murrell, a noted robber and leader of a band of horse thieves and negro traders which infested these regions long before the war, and were used to mark their meeting place.

It is said that Murrell and his bandits would swim their horses and negroes across the Mississipi river at a point about 60 miles south of Helena and then separate, each taking his part of the stolen negroes after having disposed of the spoils, to one of the pines, where they would await Murrell and the planning of another raid.

MOST EXCITING DAY

Domestic Improvement and Peace Rumors of Past Few Days Factors in Spectacular Movement.

New York, April 10.—With transactions aggregating almost 1,300,000 shares and gains extending from 3 to 7 1-2 points in leading issues, yesterday's stock market was the most exciting and noteworthy of any day since July 30 last. On that date, which marked the issuance of Germany's ultimatum to Russia, the market was stirred into a state of feverish activity at the expense of values. Today's operations were all the other way, only a few of the unimportant stocks failing to share in the bread and steady advance.

On the surface the market had the signs of a general awakening of public interest, due to a variety offavorable factors, including the statement of the Treasury Department, which bore out unofficial advices of general domestic improvement. Another powerful influence was the persistent circulation of peace rumors, even though these met with prompt denial in high quarters.

The day began with some misgivings, because of the spectacular movement of the preceding session in Bethlehem Steel. That stock was comparatively inactive today, even though it added 7 points to its credit. Soon after the opening, buying movement began in United States Steel, which was maintained throughout the five hours, the stock rising only the barest faction to 49 5-8 at first, but soon responding to a wide and general demand, which carried it to 57 in the final dealings, and with total dealings of 244,000 shares.

Reading was only second in important to United States Steel, with sales of 113,000 shares and a gain of 5 1-2 Union Pacific Amalgamated Copper and other speculative favorites were next in order, with extensive overturns at 3 to 5 1-2 point gains.

As the buying of these shares gathered impetus an inquiry for other industrials and railway shares ensued, until the upward sweep embraced stocks of all classes. The machinery of the exchange was tested and its utmost capacity in the final minutes behind its usual time in recording closing quotations.

THREATENED REVOLT

Hungarian Government Anticipates Civil War

Petrograd. April 10—Already there are remarkable signs that the most serious purpose of the large German re-enforcements which are now answering the call of the Hungarian government is to overawe the rural population, which is begining to threaten revolt.

Evidently the Germans cannot spare the troops from the Western campaign that are needed to help the Austrians in the Carpathians.

Should the Hungarian crisis burst into civil war behind the armies now facing the Russians, it is certain that Marshal von Hindenburg, immediately to the north, will bring the main German army to Western Poland, sending Gen. Mackensen's force south again to try to get below the Russian position in Hungary.

It is learned here today that the Germans in the north have only one officer for about 300 men.

WED WITH WRONG NAME

Newly-Married Couple of Baltimore Victims of Serious Blunder.

About two years ago a young man and a young woman of Baltimore made their way to this city for the purpose of entering into wedlock. Upon reaching the office of the Clerk of the Corporation Court the man gave the official one of his cards and also handed the clerk what he supposed was a letter bearing the autograph of the young women he was about to marry. The clerk filled the blank form with the names handed him, and after the payment of the usual fee the prospective bride and groom sought a minister. Upon reaching a parsonage and explaining the object of their call, the young man, without having read or opened the license, handed the document to the preacher, and the latter soon linked them together in due and ancient form.

They received a marriage certificate and later departed with visions of everlasting bliss and air castles dancing before their minds.

After returning to the monumental city they scanned the certificate and were greatly startled upon discovering that the name upon it was not that previously owned by the newly-wedded young woman, but that of a former flame of her leige lord appeared. It seems that her husband, who had in previous years carried on a correspondence with this young woman had failed to clear his pockets of the correspondence. Previous to his marriage he had received a letter from the young woman who is now his wife. He unfortunately placed the latter missive in a pocekt with the other letter, and handed the wrong one to the clerk of the court.

A baby was born to the couple a few days ago, and it was thought that the mistake should be corrected as soon as possible. The clerk was called upon this week and the muddle will be rectified.

DEATH FROM LOCK JAW.

Little Boy Expires on Road Between This City And Baltimore.

George Schwartz, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schwartz, who resides at 631 south Fairfax street, died on the road between Alexandria and Baltimore between 9 and 10 o'clock last night from lock jaw. The boy became infected 10 days ago when he stuck a splinter in his right hand. The sore would not heal and yesterday morning lock jaw became apparent. Physicians advised that the only chance to save the lad's life was to remove him to the Johns' Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, and last night at 9 o'clock the boy's father, accompanied by a friend started over the road with the boy in an automobile. Shortly after leaving Washington young Schwartz was taken with convulsions and died.

THE LATE J. A. KEITH.

Funeral Took Place This Afternoon From Episcopal Church in Warrenton.

As was stated in the Gazette, Commonwealth Attorney J. A. C. Keith died at his home in Warrenton Thursday evening, at eight o'clock from pneumonia, after an illness of only a few days. The funeral took place this afternoon from the Episcopal Church in Warrenton.

Mr. Keith was the fifth son of the late Isham and Sarah Keith. He was born at "Woodburne," Fauquier county, in May, 1870. He received his education in the private and public schools of his native county. After maturity he came to Warrenton and entered the law office of Col. Grenville Gaines, and from there went the firm of Gaines & Bro., bankers, remaining with this firm for some years; from there he went to Anniston, Ala., where his brothers, Julian and James Keith, were in business. Several years there after he returned to "Woodburne," where he fully recovered, through the invigorating air of Fauquier, from an attack of typhoid fever contracted in Alabama, and while recovering from this illness he read law at his home, and on October 22, 184 stood the bar examination and was admitted to the practice of law, and went into the law office of the late Major R. Taylor Scott. On May 27, 1903, he married Miss Mary Welby Scott, the eldest daughter of R. Haylor and Fanny Scott. From this union there are four children, three boys and one girl. Mr. Keith was appointed by the court, in 1904 at the request of James P. Jeffries, to perform the duties of Commonwealth's Attorney during his illness and after the death of Mr. Jeffries he continued to fill the position till the regular election in 1907, when he was elected without opposition for a full term and has remained Commonwealth Attorney ever since.

The deceased had many friends and acquaintances in Alexandria which city he often visited on legal and other business.

Corseting the Growing Girl

The health, revelopment and general figure of the girl are all directly influenced by the first corset. Therefore, the intelligent selection and, indeed, all corsets, until maturity, is far too important to be trusted to inexperenced or careless service.

A growing or developing figure is yielding and quickly follows whatever line the corset tends to give a chance, a corset fitter must be able to judge the figure and know its possibilities. The first corset, then, should be carefully selected and properly worn.

Ferris Waists, 50c to $2.00.
Treo Girdles, $1.00 to $3.50.
Corsets of other makes, $1.00 to $3.50.

ALEXANDRIA'S STANDING.

When this city was engaged in the suit against Alexandria and Fairfax counties for the annexation of certain territory which had been populated from the overflowing of this city every means was used by those fighting our cause to minimize Alexandria. Immorality it was alleged, existed in certain sections, the fact that saloons were tolerated here were expatiated upon, and attention called to the fact that Alexandria city carried a large debt. While there were no direct statements to the effect that financial difficulties were imminent, the tenor of the onslaughts was calculated, and probably intended, to create suspicion.

When Judge Caldwell handed down his decision in the Court of Appeals setting aside Judge Gordon's ruling in the Circuit Court of Alexandria county and sustaining this city in its contention, he observed that Alexandria's financial condition was on a sound basis and better than any other city in the state of its size.

The city recently negotiated a loan of $50,000 with a banking house of Washington for the purpose of beginning work on our new high school building. Since that time certain financial institutions in other cities, unaware that the loan has already been made, have sent to officials of this city letters asking details in connection with the matter, each of which, apparently, would like an opportunity to be considered in connection with loans to Alexandria. One communication was received a day or two ago from a Wall street New York, house with branches in Chicago and San Francisco.

IS THE DAWN OF PEACE DRAWING NEAR?

During the past week significant dispatches concerning the possibility of an early cessation of hostilities in Europe have appeared in the newspapers of the old and new world, and while representatives of the nations involved in the struggle have emphatically denied that any peace overtures or suggestions are being considered, according to the ancient proverb, where there is so much smoke there must be some fire.

Efforts to start a fresh discussion of peace in Europe were made conspicuous in Washington yesterday by the publication of reports that the terms which Germany is prepared to consider as a basis of ending the war have been communicated to the United States government.

In German quarters the discussion of peace seems to be more welcome at present than elsewhere. Publicly the statement is made on behalf of Germany that the war will end only when the allies see that it is impossible to defeat or crush Germany.

Privately it is added that this realization on the part of the allies is near at hand, and that the fighting may be expected to end within the next few months.

Paul Michaelis in his weekly review of the war in the Berlin Tagblatt is in a gloomy mood regarding the present position of the German armies and he speaks of the spirit of modesty that now reigns in Germany. He says:

"We only see how tremendously difficult it is made for us to preserve our national unity and freedom. Many dreamed too easily of our victory over our enemies. People thought to gain in the harvest when really the first preparations for the final result still had to be created. In the meantime we have become more modest, and it becomes clear to us that even with the greatest self-sacrifice, it will only be with difficulty that we shall be able to conquer the opposition of the world of enemies.

"Everybody has long since abandoned the expectation that between today and tomorrow the world could be healed by the German spirit. We have had to be convinced unwillingly and by hard facts that in this war it is not a question of putting through a fantastic world policy, but a question of protecting our house and home. So little as the war was begun to lay a new yoke upon the world, it certainly will have to be carried on for the self-preservation of the German Empire.

"It would be idle to try and fix the details of what the final peace will be, but in any case our object must be the making certain of our national existence for the longest possible time."

CONFEDERATE VETERANS' SONS.

For many years people in the southern country have labored to arouse sentiment in the young men whose sires were members of the armies of the late Southern Confederacy. Their work, however, has not been encouraging, and although the United Daughters of the Confederacy is a vigorous organization the sons of veterans are by no means enthusiastic and manifest but little interest in memories which should be dear to them.

While camps of Sons of Confederate Veterans have been organized in every section of the south, it has been found difficult to enthuse the younger men with the principles for which their progenitors contended, and quorums seldom appear at the regular monthly meetings.

The ancient Passover Feast has just passed. For thirty-five hundred years descendants of the Hebrews who were forced to leave Egypt in a hurry have gathered at the anniversary, and at this feast the story of the Exodus is kept fresh in the minds of old and young.

There was a hurried flight of sires of many residents of Alexandrians from the intersection of Prince and Washington streets while the stars were still in the sky on Friday, May 24, 1861. It would seem that the present generation should take some pride in remembering this anniversary better that they do, and that the sons of those who formed that heroic band should not be neglectful of a duty they owe their sires.

In this connection Captain John Lamb, of Richmond, says:

"It has been a source of surprise and regret to me to note what seems to be a lack of interest on the part of Sons of Confederate Veterans of this city in the meetings of the Grand Camp, C. Va., and concern for the general warfare of the visitors to the reunion here this summer."

The second stage of the contest for the debater's medal to be awarded at commencement will be held tonight at the regular meeting of the A. H. S. Literary Society, where the two debates scheduled are, first, "Resolved, that unpaid convict labor is slavery and should be abolished," and second, "Resolved, that capital punishment should be abolished." The affirmative of the first debate will be upheld by Miss Audrey Gaines, and the negative by Waller Barrett. The second subject affirmative is Leo Pohl and the negative Miss Anna Haslett. The winners of the two debates will debate May 1st on, "Resolved, that the Monroe Doctrine should be abolished." On May 1st two other contest debates are also scheduled. The first is Resolved, that paying a fare entitles the payer to a seat," the affirmative being Miss Dolly Callahan and the negative Tupper Barrett, who won their respective debates at the opening of the debating contest. The other debate to take place on May 1st is between the winners of the two debates that take place Saturday, April 24.

The Alexandria High School baseball team was defeated by Strayer's Business College of Washington, at the Ball Park yesterday by the score of 11 to 1. "Dick" Nalls was in the box for the A. H. S. The next game scheduled is for next Wednesday afternoon with the St. Agnes team of Washington, which was defeated by the A. H. S. in their first game of the season.

Another meeting of the High School players was held during the week, at which the decision made at the first meeting as regards the use of the money realized from the plays was rescinded, and a new decision made in its place. It was decided that the sum of twenty-five dollars each should be paid to the Boy's Athletic Association and the Literary Society, and that the remainder should go to the purchase of books for a chorus of about seventy-five or a hundred voices for which plans are being made by those who were in the chorus at the plays and others at the school. Plans are being made to start work on a big musical festival for commencement.

A decision of the judges on the Alexandria High School essays on the Alexandria High School essays on the American merchant marine is expected to be reached early next week. After the winner among the local essays has been picked the winning essay will be sent to Richmond to be judged together with winning essays in simlar contests throughout the state high schools for the awarding of the state gold medal. A gold medal will be given to the winner here, as also at the other high schools. Three A. H. S. essay s are being judged.

DUEL IN THE AIR

German Craft Brought Down by French Aviator

Furnes, Belgium, April 10—A dramatic duel in the air in which a German air craft was brought down by Roland G. Garros, a famous French aviator, inside the allied lines is described by Major Raoul Pontus, son of the former Belgian minister of war, who witnessed the marked No. 2, Fortieth Flotilla. Itsed in rising above Garros' machine, but the latter, by a clever twist escaped, and then flew atop the German.

"From this moment the German's position became critical," said Major Pontus, for Garros overtook him rapidly. Presently the crackling of a quick firer showed the Frenchman judged himself sufficiently near to take the offensive. Could the German escape? It seemed difficult, for Garros shot forward in great bounds getting nearer and nearer, but the German observer used his carbine freely, and it seemed that a bullet might strike the Frenchman.

"Suddenly a long jet of white smoke gushed from the German machine, and then a little flame which in an instant enveloped the whole aeroplane. Notwithstanding the extreme peril the pilot took to flight but his efforts to escape soon was converted into a horrifying downward plunge. The aeroplane, a mass of flames, struck the ground a score of yards from me, and a column of black smoke mingled with sheets of fire poured from the fallen machine.

"I ran to the aeroplane, which had fallen close to a ditch, and soon put out the fire. The aviators, horribly burned, were dead when I reached them. The gasoline tank contained two bullet holes. The machine was marked No2, Forthith Flotilla. Its six cylinder engine was very heavy, and this explained its rapid fall. The fire had spared instruments and military documents in thick leather case. This interesting booty was taken to general headquarters."

EITEL SENT TO NAVY YARD

Raider's Commander Signs Agreement Not to violate U. S. Neutrality

Norfolk Va., April 10—The German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich was interned late yesterday at the Norfolk navy yard, where she will remain until the end of the European war. Thousands of persons lined the river front to greet the commerce raider on her arrival from Newport News. Tugs and steamers saluted as she passed. The Eitel Friedrich occupies a berth near the historic frigate Constitution.

At the navy yard Comdr. Thierichens went to the office of Rear Admiral Beatty, the commandant, and signed an agreement not to violate the neutrality laws of the United States. He was informed that he and officers and crew of the German cruiser would be extended the liberty of Norfolk and vicinity. They will live aboard their vessel.

MAIL MAN ASSASSINATED.

Had Been Shot Three Times by Unknown Person. After Bloodhounds.

Norfolk, Va., April 10.—C. B. Rodgers, a rural mail carrier, whose body was found in the barn in the rear of his home in Campostella Heights early yesterday morning, was murdered. He was shot three times.

That Mr. Rodgers was shot about 8:30 o'clock Thursday night is almost certain. He went to his barn at that time to water his three horses that are used in mail service and one of the neighbors heard four shots between 8:30 and 8:35 o'clock. Nothing was seen nor reard of Mr Rodgers after he left the house for the barn until his dead body was found by his son, Paul E. Rodgers, shortly after midnight.

That robbery was the motive for the murder is the theory of the dead man's neighbors.

NEELY'S WAR PICTURES PROVE GREAT SUCCESS—TONIGHT THE LAST NIGHT

Big Audience Hear Thrilling Description by Brilliant Lecturer of Scenes in the War Zone of Europe.

At the Opera House last night was given the first presentation of Mr. F. Tennyson Neely's wonderful pictures and thrilling lecture. The audience was one of the largest of the season and was composed of the most select people of Alexandria. The general verdict was that Mr. Neely's performance from every point of view was the best that had ever been seen by the people here.

The audience were entirely in accord with Mr. Neely's sentiments and his neutral expressions. There were over eight thousand feet of motion pictures, giving a panorama of facts never before seen. More than four hundred scenes from over one hundred different motion picture cameras. The vivid pictures of the well organized Red Cross gathering up the wounded and transporting them on especially built motor cars, also the transferring of wounded soldiers from one Red Cross ship to another presented scenes which were most touching and pathetic. The firing of a great gun having been loaded and hoisted by an engine and fired at a target eight miles away held the audience spell-bound. Views of Gibraltar never before seen were shown. The charge of a troop of cavalry across a field with shells and shrapnel bursting in front of them was the most vivid and thrilling picture which could be imagined. The operations of a great battle ship in actual fighting and being attacked by a submarine with the actual explosions of the torpedoes presented scenes which are beyond description and could not possibly be realized without actually viewing the pictures.

Mr. Neely is a magnetic speaker and the illustrations are in the form of motion pictures, showing army and war scenes. Every picture is filled with action and the impression they make is heightened by the lecturer's dynamic utterances. One picture shows the discharge of powerful explosives by soldiers of the United States army, another, scenes at Gibraltar, and the firing of the largest gun in the world; others a submarine in action, a battleship firing its huge guns, German cavalry fording a swift stream and the repulsing of a cavalry charge. Some of Mr. Neely's remarks drew enthusiastic applause, especially his declaration that in his opinion the foreign policy of President Wilson is absolutely right and his eulogy of the President. He received another round of applause when, at the close of his talk, he said that wars would cease when those who had the power to declare them were obliged to be the first to take places in the firing line.

This afternoon all the school teachers in this city have been invited as Mr. Neely's guests and the children of all the schools of the city are given the chance to attend at the nominal price of five cents.

Tonight will be the last chance to see these amazing pictures and hear what is regarded as the ablest and most authentic account of the war up to date.

Mr. Neely found some old friends here and has made many new friends since his arrival a few days ago. On Sunday morning at 10 o'clock he will spenk before the Sunday School at Christ Church. It is a wide range of knowledge and training by which a public orator such as Mr. Neely finds himself at home with equal facility on the platform at the banquet hall or in the pulpit.

There's an old proverb:

"Halving your wants quadruples your wealth"

Over almost everything except our virtues, there might be written this condemnation: "Too much." As late as the Eighteenth Century the general lot was crude and mean. Your rich grandfather suffered discomforts compared with which your surroundings are luxurious!" —Herbert Kaufman
